'Nothing feels more daunting than getting up on stage and making sounds you might normally associate with a zoo. However, Dominic Peckham has a way of bringing out an inner confidence which makes you let go of those nerves and just enjoy it. Working together to create a sound, you're not concerned with how good it is, but rather how you come together as a team, communicate and give it all you've got! Inspiring for both children and teachers – singing allows us to embrace the joy, simplicity and little bit of magic it brings to the day.'
