

FENELLA HUMPHREYS

violin

"Humphreys' 'utter absorption and delight... shines forth at every turn.'" Gramophone

Fenella Humphreys, winner of the 2018 BBC Music Magazine Instrumental Award, has won critical admiration and audience acclaim with the lyrical grace and intensity of her playing.

Described in the press as "alluring", "unforgettable" and "a wonder", Fenella is one of the UK's most established and versatile violinists. She enjoys a busy career combining chamber music and solo work, performing in prestigious venues around the world. She is frequently broadcast on the BBC, Classic FM, DeutschlandRadio Berlin, West-Deutsche-Rundfunk, ABC Classic FM (Australia) and Korean radio.

Fenella performs widely as a soloist. Her first concerto recording, of Christopher Wright's Violin Concerto with the Royal Scottish National Orchestra and Martin Yates (Dutton Epoch) was released in 2012 to great critical acclaim ("Fenella Humphreys' performance is a wonder" – International Record Review), and was selected as Orchestral CD of the Month in a 5 star review in BBC Music Magazine.

Over the past decade Fenella has captured international attention by applying spellbinding virtuosity to a strikingly broad range of compositions. Her Bach 2 the Future albums, the second of which won the coveted BBC Music Magazine Instrumental Award, combined newly commissioned works with two of Bach's solo sonatas and partitas and other repertoire landmarks. She has given the first performances of scores by, among others, Sir Peter Maxwell Davies, Sally Beamish, Gordon Crosse, Cheryl Frances-Hoad, Adrian Sutton and Piers Hellawell, and made the world premiere recording of Christopher Wright's elegiac Violin Concerto.

Fenella's new disc, So Many Stars, with acclaimed pianist Nicola Eimer was released on Stone Records in February 2019. It was described as "hugely rewarding" by The Observer and BBC Radio 3's Record Review as "an absolutely exquisite album".

June 2019 sees the release of another new disc, Four Seasons Recomposed with Covent Garden Sinfonia and Ben Palmer (Rubicon). The album unites Max Richter's iconic Recomposed: The Four Seasons with Pēteris Vasks' Lonely Angel and Arvo Pärt's Fratres to produce a compelling meditation on the profound power of melody. The disc will be launched with a performance of Recomposed at St Jude's, Hampstead Garden Suburb in June 2019.

Fenella is a passionate chamber musician, enjoying performances with Ensemble Perpetuo, Counterpoise and I Musicanti as well as collaborations with artists including Alexander Baillie, Adrian Brendel, Pekka Kuusisto and Alec Frank-Gemmill, and is regularly invited by Steven Isserlis to take part in the prestigious Open Chamber Music at the International Musicians' Seminar, Prussia Cove. Concertmaster of the Deutsche Kammerakademie, Fenella also enjoys guest leading and directing various ensembles in Europe.

Fenella's teachers have included Sidney Griller CBE, Itzhak Rashkovsky, Ida Bieler and David Takeno at the Purcell School, Guildhall School of Music and Drama, and the Robert-Schumann-Hochschule in Düsseldorf where she was awarded the highest attainable marks both for the 'Diplom' exam and the 'Konzertexamen' soloists' diploma.

Fenella plays a beautiful violin from the circle of Peter Guarneri of Venice, kindly on loan from Jonathan Sparey.

FESTIVAL PROGRAMMES

Odette: A Celebration of Swan Lake

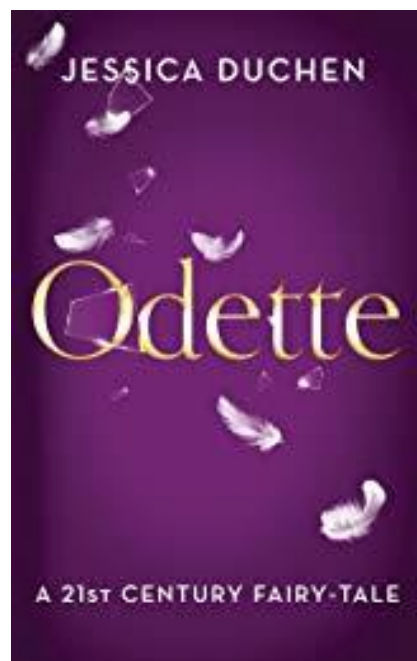

Fenella Humphreys (violin)
Viv McLean (piano)
Jessica Duchen (author/narrator)

“Enthralling... an unpredictable and original voice and a dazzling perceptiveness” - Joanna Lumley

Pyotr Ilyich Tchaikovsky’s ballet score for Swan Lake casts a powerful spell over generation after generation. It has had innumerable reimaginings and retellings, balletic and otherwise. The latest is author and music critic Jessica Duchen’s magical-realist novel Odette, in which the enchanted swan princess meets 21st Century Britain.

This remarkable narrated concert mingles selected readings from the book with the story behind Tchaikovsky’s creation of Swan Lake and its passionate, tragic inspirations. Award-winning, ballet-loving British violinist Fenella Humphreys embraces the great violin solos with which Tchaikovsky embroidered his score, as well as the closely related Violin Concerto; pianist Viv McLean evokes the influence of Chopin and Liszt on Tchaikovsky; and there’s plenty of humour, with works by Saint-Saëns and Gershwin. Share the enchantment with this joyous celebration of a beloved ballet, its composer, its fairytale and what they can mean to us today.

Tchaikovsky: Swan Lake – Introduction
Saint-Saëns: Danse macabre
Gershwin: The Man I Love
Liszt: Liebestraum No.3
Tchaikovsky: Swan Lake – Odette’s Solo interval
Chopin: Polonaise-Fantaisie
Tchaikovsky: Swan Lake – White Swan Pas de Deux
Tchaikovsky: Swan Lake – Adagio from the Black Swan Pas de Deux
Tchaikovsky: Violin Concerto in D major – finale

Vivaldi's Four Seasons Reimagined

Fenella Humphreys | Murray Grainger (accordion) | Ben Griffiths (double bass) | George Barton (percussion)

Fenella presents a reworking of Vivaldi's Four Seasons for an incredible chamber ensemble of violin, accordion, double bass and percussion, bringing a whole new world of diverse and brilliant sounds to Vivaldi's masterpiece. The four concertos are together with three new commissions for the ensemble from Cheryl Frances-Hoad, Adrian Sutton and Bethan Morgan-Williams. The whole thing will be a one-hour performance, and perfect for late nights - or also rush hour, lunchtime or morning performances.

Alongside the performance, the ensemble can offer education and outreach options, from interactive school performances through to composition-based multi-session workshops with a trained workshop leader. Available from June 2020
